

ORDER OF SERVICE

HYMN..... "Going Up Yonder" -by Walter Hawkins

Scripture..... John 3:16

Prayer Rev. Dr. Timothy Tooten, Sr.

Song..... "I Need You Now" - by Smokey Norful

Scripture..... Psalm: 28

Remarks/Acknowledgements

Representative from the Restaurant Industry: Opie Crooks, Chef
Friend: Pastor Jerry Jackson
Family Member: Andre Sanders, Jr.

Obituary..... Read Silently
"I'll See You Again!" by Richard Smallwood

Song..... "Now Behold The Lamb" by Kirk Franklin

Eulogy..... Rev. Dr. Timothy Tooten, Sr.,
Pastor, Harvest Christian Ministries

Benediction..... Rev. Dr. Timothy Tooten, Sr.

INTERMENT

King Memorial Park
8710 Dogwood Road
Baltimore, MD 21244

PALLBEARERS

Andre Sanders Jr. • Michael Urguhart
Desmond Hart • Previn Ervin
Terrond Yates • Nathaniel Collins, III

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Sanders family wishes to acknowledge with deep appreciation the many expressions of love, kindness, and gifts of support. May God Bless you all.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES ENTRUSTED TO

CELEBRATION
OF LIFE

JUSTIN
ANDREW
SANDERS

Sunrise • April 30, 1990 Sunset • June 25, 2020

Tuesday, July 7, 2020 • Wake 10:00 am • Funeral 10:30 am
Vaughn C. Greene Funeral Services • 8728 Liberty Road • Randallstown, MD
Rev. Dr. Timothy Tooten, Sr. • Officiating
Pastor, Harvest Christian Ministries

LIFE REFLECTIONS

On June 25, 2020, Justin Andrew Sanders, loving son, brother, uncle, nephew, cousin, and friend laid his head down to rest with his Heavenly Father.

Justin was born in Perry Hall, Maryland on April 30, 1990, to Nel Rae and Jeffrey Sanders, Sr. Justin attended Perry Hall High School where he lettered in football as an offensive and defensive lineman. In addition to his love for the grid iron, Justin enjoyed dancing, spending time with his many friends and relatives, and making others smile through comedy or creating a delicious dish.

From an early age, Justin displayed a deep passion and skill for cooking. While other children watched cartoons, Justin watched the Cooking Network, and crafted his art at an early age on his father's grill. When he wasn't conducting culinary experiments, Justin, affectionately known as 'Fruit,' enjoyed playing outside with his brother and the other Wragby kids of the neighborhood. He also enjoyed consistently beating his older brother, Jeffrey Jr., in video games, and helping his father out at church. Justin accepted Christ at an early age and was proudly baptized by his father at Solid Rock Freewill Baptist Church in Baltimore. Growing up as the son of a preacher, Justin spent most of his youth inside the close-knit community of Christian Disciples. He enjoyed critiquing the many sermons of his dad, particularly the sermon entitled, "Sike," and performing impressions of various folks he crossed paths with. Justin also sang on the church choir and assisted in the audio recording ministry at Solid Rock.

After graduating from high school in 2008, Justin enrolled at Le Cordon Bleu Institute of Culinary Arts in Pittsburgh, where he studied to be a Chef. During his time in the kitchen, Justin crafted food for a variety of celebrities to include 'The Iceman,' Chuck Liddell, Tom Hanks, and most of the Baltimore Raven football team, who consistently frequented restaurants he worked in.

To have food prepared by Justin was not just a meal, it was an EXPERIENCE. His cheerful and hilarious demeanor would brighten you, even on your worst day. His eyes possessed a glow that would illuminate even the darkest of venues. And his creativity with his hands could bedazzle any food critic to savor every bite. What Justin could do in the kitchen was pure magic, but it was his candid capability to revivify outside of the kitchen that made him truly special.

Rhoda Gilmore (stage manager for the "The Talk") was a dream maker for Justin (10 years old) and made it possible for him to appear on the Emeril Lagasse show.

Dear neighbors Harry and Laura Graves took him on the train to New York. This blessing ignited a flame of passion and determination that was fierce. Later, Justin launched out on Faith and journeyed to New York with a few dollars and landed his first professional job at Bubba Gummmps on Time Square. "BAM" "Junior".

He is survived by his mother, Nel Rae Sanders; father, Jeffrey Sanders, Sr. (wife Michelle) brother Jeffrey Sanders, Jr.; nieces, Roxanne and Joya Sanders; nephew, Jackson Sanders; and a host of family and friends.

